

Lost Voice Guy is Only in it for the Parking in Oldham

Due to popular demand following a sell-out tour in Spring 2019, Lee Ridley (aka Lost Voice Guy) – the first comedian ever to win Britain's Got Talent – comes to Oldham Coliseum this October with his stand-up show I'm Only In It For The Parking.

Lee is the first stand-up comedian to use a communication aid. His cutting edge material combines the political and personal with razor-sharp observations about disability and daily life. Last month he made a return to our screens and the BGT stage competing in Britain's Got Talent: The Champions.

The winner of the BBC New Comedy Award 2014, Lee has also appeared on BBC's Live at the Apollo and The One Show, Channel 4's The Last Leg, The Royal Variety Show, America's Got Talent: The Champions, and is the star and co-writer of two series of BBC Radio 4's hugely popular comedy show, Ability.

He may not be able to talk but he definitely has something to say - and his comedy will leave you speechless.

Lost Voice Guy will be supported at Oldham Coliseum by Britain's Got Talent 2017 semi-finalist Jonny Awsum.

Oldham Coliseum Theatre

Oldham Coliseum Theatre is a cultural and educational charity that works with over 150,000 individuals per year.

The Coliseum has a rich history in Greater Manchester dating back to 1885. It provides a wide variety of distinctive theatre performances and participatory activities for people from all communities in Oldham,

Greater Manchester and beyond. It creates original productions each year which are presented at the Coliseum and on tour. Intrinsic to the town's on-going regeneration, the theatre works with its local communities and young people to develop creative programmes to facilitate learning, engagement and community cohesion.
